Glossary of Terms

This glossary, many terms of which have been excerpted from Fannie Mae whose copyright therein is acknowledged, is an extensive listing of real estate and mortgage terms used when transacting in US residential property.

- 80-10-10 - a type of blended mortgage loan which avoids private mortgage insurance (PMI). It consists of an 80% 30 year first lien loan at market rates, a 10% 15 year second lien at a slightly higher interest rate, and a 10% down payment. Instead of having to come up with a 20% down payment, a buyer is able to avoid PMI with only 10% down. While the interest rate on the second note is a bit higher, the total monthly payment is usually lower than a 90% mortgage with PMI. In addition, the extra interest paid for the second lien is tax deductible, whereas PMI is not. It is also possible to payoff just the second lien, thereby lowering the future monthly payments. Some lenders also offer 75-15-10 and 80-15-5 programs. This type of mortgage also gives the consumer the option of having a non-escrowing loan without a 20% down payment.
- 100% Mortgage - this gives a house buyer with little or no cash the opportunity to buy a home. The loan is usually backed up by assets owned by the borrower – such as stocks and bonds. There are two significant drawbacks to the 100% mortgage namely higher interest rates and the possibility that the borrower's securities will be liquidated to cover a collateral call.
- Abstract of Title - a condensed version of the history of title to a piece of land that lists any transfers in ownership, as well as any liabilities attached to it, such as mortgages.
- Abutting - the joining, reaching, or touching of adjoining land. Abutting pieces of land have a common boundary.
- Acceleration Clause - a provision in a mortgage note that gives a lender the right to demand repayment of the entire balance of the loan under certain conditions - the most common reasons for accelerating a loan are if the borrower defaults on the loan or transfers title to another individual without informing the lender.
- Acceptance - an offeree's consent to enter into a contract and be bound by the terms of it.
- Accretion - an addition to land or property through natural causes.
- Acknowledgment - a declaration made by a person to a notary public, or other public official authorized to take acknowledgments, that the instrument was executed by him and that it was his/her free and voluntary act.
- Additional Principal Payment - an amount paid by a borrower of more than the scheduled principal amount due. This type of payment reduces the remaining balance and shortens the term of the loan. Also called a "principal curtailment."
- Adjustable-Rate Mortgage (ARM) - a mortgage that permits the lender to periodically adjust the interest rate on the basis of changes in a specified index. All ARMs are tied to indices.
- Adjustment Date - the date on which the interest rate changes for an adjustable-rate mortgage (ARM).
- Adjustment Period - for an adjustable-rate mortgage, the time period between interest rate change dates, as stated in the mortgage note.
- Ad Valorem - designates an assessment of taxes against property. A Latin terms meaning, literally, according to value.
- Adverse Possession - the right of an occupant of land to acquire title against the real owner, where possession has been actual, continuous, hostile, visible, and distinct for the statutory period. The requirements for adversely possessing property vary between US States, but usually include continuous and open use for a period of five or more years and paying taxes on the property in question.
- Affidavit – a written statement signed and sworn before a person authorized to take an oath.
- Affordability Analysis - an estimation of a borrower's ability to afford the purchase of a home and/or the payment on a loan. An affordability analysis may consider income, liabilities, the type of mortgage, the loan amount, purchase price, the expected closing costs, and other factors.
- Agent - an individual who represents a seller, a buyer or both in the purchase or sale of real estate.

Glossary of US Property and Mortgage Terms

- Amortization - the gradual reduction of the mortgage debt through regularly scheduled payments over the term of the loan. Except on an interest only loan, each loan payment consists of a portion which will be applied to pay the accruing interest on a loan, with the remainder being applied to the principal. Over time, the interest portion decreases as the loan balance decreases, and the amount applied to principal increases so that the loan is paid off (amortized) in the specified time.
- Amortization Schedule - a timetable for payment of a mortgage loan. An amortization schedule shows: the amount of each payment; the amount to be applied to principal and interest; and the remaining principal balance after each payment is made.
- Amortize - to repay a mortgage with regular payments that cover both principal (the amount borrowed) and interest.
- Annual Percentage Rate (APR) - the measure of the cost of credit stated as a yearly rate; includes such items as the stated interest rate, plus certain charges. It is a value created according to a US government formula intended to reflect the true annual cost of borrowing, expressed as a percentage. The APR is always higher than the actual note rate on your loan.
- Annuity - an amount paid yearly or at other regular intervals, often at a guaranteed minimum amount. It can also be a type of insurance policy in which the policy holder makes payments for a fixed period or until a stated age, and then receives annuity payments from the insurance company.
- Application - the form used to apply for a mortgage loan, containing information about a borrower's income, savings, assets, debts, and more.
- Appraisal - a written estimate or opinion of a property's value prepared by a qualified appraiser. It is primarily based on an analysis of comparable sales of similar homes nearby.
- Appraised Value - an opinion of a property's fair market value, based on an appraiser's knowledge, experience, and analysis of the property. Since an appraisal is based primarily on comparable sales, and the most recent sale is the one on the property in question, the appraisal usually comes out at the purchase price.
- Appraiser - an individual qualified by education, training, and experience to estimate the value of real property and personal property. Although some appraisers work directly for mortgage lenders, most are independent.
- Appreciation - the increase in the value of a property due to changes in market conditions, inflation, or other causes.
- Assessed Value – typically, the value placed on property by a public tax assessor for the purpose of levying taxation.
- Assessment - the placing of a value on property for the purpose of taxation.
- Assessor - a public official who establishes the value of a property for taxation purposes.
- Asset - anything of monetary value that is owned by a person or company. Assets include real property, personal property, stocks, shares, mutual funds, etc.
- Assignment of Mortgage - a document evidencing the transfer of ownership of a mortgage from one person to another.
- Assumable Mortgage - a mortgage loan that can be taken over ("assumed") by the buyer when a home is sold. An assumption of a mortgage is a transaction in which the buyer of real property takes over the seller's existing mortgage; the seller remains liable unless released by the lender from the obligation. If the mortgage contains a due-on-sale clause, the loan may not be assumed without the lender's consent.
- Assumption Fee - a fee a lender charges a buyer who will assume the seller's existing mortgage.
- Automated Underwriting - an automated process performed by a technology application that streamlines the processing of loan applications and provides a recommendation to the lender to approve the loan or refer it for manual underwriting.
- Balance Sheet - a financial statement that shows assets, liabilities, and net worth as of a specific date.
- Balloon Mortgage - a mortgage in which the borrower's monthly payments are amortized over a longer period than the actual term of the mortgage. As a result, at the end of the loan term, the borrower must pay off the remaining balance with a single lump sum payment or refinance the loan.
- Balloon Payment - the final lump sum payment that is made at the maturity date of a balloon mortgage.
- Bankruptcy - a legal process that allows debtors (borrowers) to eliminate or restructure debts when they have financial difficulties. By filing in a US federal bankruptcy court, an individual or individuals can restructure or relieve themselves of debts and liabilities. Bankruptcies are of various types, but the most common for an individual seems to be a "Chapter 7 No Asset" bankruptcy which relieves the borrower of most types of debts. A borrower cannot usually qualify for an "A" paper loan for a period of two years after the bankruptcy has been discharged and requires the re-establishment of an ability to repay debt.

- Before-Tax Income - income before taxes are deducted. It is also known as "gross income."
- Bill of Sale - a written document that transfers title to personal property. For example, when selling an automobile to acquire funds which will be used as a source of down payment or for closing costs, the lender will usually require the bill of sale (in addition to other items) to help document this source of funds.
- Bi-weekly Payment Mortgage - a mortgage with payments due every two weeks (instead of monthly). There are extra charges normally associated with this type of mortgage – the idea behind this increased frequency of payment is that the loan is paid off earlier. You could save money by doing the same thing yourself without paying the extra costs of this type of mortgage.
- Bona Fide – a Latin term meaning "in good faith, without fraud".
- Bond Market – this usually refers to the daily buying and selling of thirty year treasury bonds. Lenders follow this market closely because as the yields of bonds go up and down, fixed rate mortgages do approximately the same thing. The same factors that affect the US Treasury Bond market also affect mortgage rates at the same time. That is why rates change daily, and in a volatile market can and do change during the day as well.
- Bonus to selling agent (BTSA) - compensation, above and beyond the sales commission, offered to the real estate agent who brings the buyer to the transaction. A BTSA is used to provide an extra incentive for real estate agents to show a particular listing. Often the bonus is tied to closing within a certain time period or the property selling for a certain price. A buyer's agent should not consider the BTSA a factor in any negotiations between buyer and seller. Realistically, most BTSA's tend to disappear during initial negotiations, even though they should never be considered as negotiable after they have been offered. Any bonus to selling agent should be contained in a written agreement between the seller and listing broker. The BTSA is technically offered by the listing broker, not the seller, and thus should not be a subject of negotiation.
- Bridge (or Bridging) Loan - a short-term loan secured by the borrower's current home (which is usually for sale) that allows the proceeds to be used for building or closing on a new house before the current home is sold. It is also known as a "swing loan."
- Broker - an individual or firm that acts as an agent between providers and users of products or services, such as a mortgage broker or real estate broker. See also "Mortgage Broker".

- Building Line - a line fixed at a certain distance from the front and/or sides of a lot beyond which no structure can project.
- Buydown - an arrangement whereby the property developer or another third party provides an interest subsidy to reduce the borrower's monthly payments typically in the early years of the loan. A buydown usually refers to a fixed rate mortgage where the interest rate is "bought down" for a temporary period, usually one to three years. After that time and for the remainder of the term, the borrower's payment is calculated at the note rate. In order to buy down the initial rate for the temporary payment, a lump sum is paid and held in an account used to supplement the borrower's monthly payment. These funds usually come from the seller (or some other source) as a financial incentive to induce someone to buy their property. A "lender funded buydown" is when the lender pays the initial lump sum. They can accomplish this because the note rate on the loan (after the buydown adjustments) will be higher than the current market rate. One reason for doing this is because the borrower may get to "qualify" at the start rate and can qualify for a higher loan amount. Another reason is that a borrower may expect his earnings to go up substantially in the near future, but wants a lower payment right now.
- Buydown Account - an account in which funds are held so that they can be applied as part of the monthly mortgage payment as each payment comes due during the period that an interest rate buydown plan is in effect.
- Buyer's Agent - a Real Estate Agent that has made an agreement to represent the buyer exclusively, rather than the seller.
- Cap - for an adjustable-rate mortgage (ARM), a limitation on the amount the interest rate or mortgage payments may increase or decrease. See also "Lifetime Payment Cap," "Lifetime Rate Cap," "Periodic Payment Cap," and "Periodic Rate Cap".

- Cash-out Refinance - a refinance transaction in which the borrower receives additional funds over and above the amount needed to repay the existing mortgage, closing costs, points, and any subordinate liens.
- Certificate of Deposit - a document issued by a bank or other financial institution that is evidence of a deposit, with the issuer's promise to return the deposit plus earnings at a specified interest rate within a specified time period.

- Clear Title - ownership that is free of liens, defects, or other legal encumbrances.
- Closing (sometimes also called "Financial Closing") - the process of completing a financial transaction. For mortgage loans, the process of signing mortgage documents, disbursing funds, and, if applicable, transferring ownership of the property. In some jurisdictions, closing is referred to as "escrow," a process by which a buyer and seller deliver legal documents to a third party who completes the transaction in accordance with their instructions. Also see "Settlement".
- Closing Agent - the person or entity that coordinates the various closing activities, including the preparation and recordation of closing documents and the disbursement of funds. (May be referred to as an escrow agent or settlement agent in some jurisdictions.) Typically the closing is conducted by title companies, escrow companies or attorneys.
- Closing Costs - the fees charged in connection with a mortgage loan transaction. Money paid by a buyer (and/or seller or other third party, if applicable) to effect the closing of a mortgage loan, generally including, but not limited to a loan origination fee, title examination and insurance, survey, attorney's fee, and prepaid items, such as escrow deposits for taxes and insurance.

- Collateral - an asset that is pledged as security for a loan. The borrower risks losing the asset or having the asset sold if the loan is not repaid according to the terms of the loan agreement. Also simply called "Security".
- Collection - the efforts that a lender takes to collect past due payments from a borrower. When a borrower falls behind, the lender contacts them in an effort to bring the loan up to date. The loan goes to "collection." As part of the collection effort, the lender must mail and record certain documents in case they are eventually required to foreclose on the property.

Fannie Mae receives no government funding or backing, and is one of the nation's largest taxpayers as well as one of the most consistently profitable corporations in America. Fannie Mae Fannie Mae is a shareholder-owned company with a public mission. They exist to expand affordable housing and bring global capital to local communities in order to serve the U.S. housing market. They have a federal charter and operate in America's secondary mortgage market to ensure that mortgage bankers and other lenders have enough funds to lend to home buyers at low rates. Our job is to help those who house America.

Fannie Mae was created in 1938, under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, at a time when millions of families could not become homeowners, or risked losing their homes, for lack of a consistent supply of mortgage funds across America. The US government established Fannie Mae in order to expand the flow of mortgage funds in all communities, at all times, under all economic conditions, and to help lower the costs to buy a home.

In 1968, Fannie Mae was re-chartered by Congress as a shareholder-owned company, funded solely with private capital raised from investors on Wall Street and around the world.

Fannie Mae has a unique duty to the public it serves, and the private investors that fuel its service, to be a model company focused on service, reliability, and value.

As America continues to grow and change, Fannie Mae will be there to help meet its growing and changing housing needs.
